

Now Enrolling for Fall 2022!

New Online Criminology & Criminal Justice Cohort Graduate Program

The CRCJ Cohort Master's Program offers professionals who are already working in the field of criminal justice the potential to further their careers with an advanced degree. The program is a 36 hour, non-thesis degree plan offered in an accelerated format exclusively online that can be completed in just 21 months. The cohort design provides students with the opportunity to exchange ideas and network with fellow professionals in the industry. Apply today!

"The cohort master's program has given me opportunities to engage in a variety of professional development activities within my field and has provided me with lasting connections. I loved the interaction with the professors and the diversity of my cohort, which allowed for dynamic discussions regarding optimal and practical solutions to real-world issues within the criminal justice system."
- Captain VaNessa Harrison, PD Commander Northwest Campus Tarrant County College

Contact: Jaya Davis, PhD

Associate Professor and Interim Chair

jbdavis@uta.edu

<https://www.uta.edu/academics/schools-colleges/liberal-arts/departments/criminology>

LinkedIn: @UT - Arlington Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice | Facebook: @UTACRCJ