INTERNSHIPS FOR CREDIT

Undergraduate students are encouraged to participate in internships to complement classroom education, providing valuable experience in a student's area of expertise.

Internships allow students to meet and interact with professionals in a work setting, identify and develop critical professional skills, clarify their own career goals and interests, and develop important contacts for future development. Approved undergraduate internships may be used to satisfy an elective degree requirement.

GOOLSBY LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

The Goolsby Emerging Leader Program is integrated into junior and senior business coursework, for a select group of business majors, to develop and implement strong leadership skills, such as decision making, management, critical thinking, ethics and personal integrity. The focus of the Academy is on developing Scholars' leadership potential through their distinctive strengths. The BNSF Early Leader Program is for freshmen and sophomore business students and is also a component of the Academy.

STUDY ABROAD

There are multiple ways to include a study abroad in a business degree. Many students participate in a group study abroad led by business faculty to a variety of destinations, most for only 3 weeks. Other students travel independently and study abroad for a full semester.

Each year 80 to 100 business students study abroad in locations including: Argentina, Chile, China, France, Korea, Japan, Spain and many others. These business students are supported with a College of Business Jack & Doris Fouse Scholarship for Study Abroad averaging $2,500.

DEAN'S LEADERSHIP CIRCLE SCHOLARSHIPS

These competitive tuition scholarships for incoming business students acknowledge excellence in academics, engagement, and leadership. Awards are funded by business alumni and others through their membership in the College of Business Dean's Leadership Circle. Scholarship awards vary up to $5,000 annually and are renewable if requirements are met.

The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business Accreditation represents the highest standard of achievement for business schools worldwide. Less than 5 percent of the more than 16,000 schools worldwide granting business degrees have earned AACSB Accreditation.
