Interested in a new opportunity at UTA? Consider a nursing research position.

There is a brand new non-tenure track Assistant Professor of Research position now open! The role involves working with nurse researcher, Dr. Barbara Schneider, on discovering new ways that will lead to improvements in the care of patients with skeletal muscle injury, including women, older adults, wounded soldiers, etc. The position requires flexibility around the project needs and working in a lab environment.

Nursing faculty who have critical care, medical-surgical, or gerontology expertise and like to perform procedures are highly encouraged to apply.

To apply:
Contact Dr. Barbara Schneider at barbara.schneider@uta.edu for more information or to submit a letter of interest and CV.
