

2017-2018 HONORS COLLOQUIA

"Landscape Architecture: Teaching, Research, and Practice"

Professor Diane Allen

Director of the Landscape Architecture Program, CAPPA

Landscape architecture combines art and science to design, plan, and manage our land. Landscape architects design places such as parks, residential developments, campuses, gardens, cemeteries, commercial centers, resorts, transportation corridors, corporate and institutional centers, and waterfront developments. They also plan the restoration of natural places disturbed by humans such as wetlands, stream corridors, mined areas, and forested land. Learn more at the first Honors Colloquium of Spring 2018.

Noon

Friday, February 16, 2018

Carolyn A. Barros Reading Room, 100-A College Hall

Pizza and Beverages Provided

n. pl. col·lo·qui·a (-kwē-ə)

1. An informal meeting for the exchange of views.

2. An academic seminar on a broad field of study, usually led by a different lecturer at each meeting.

The Honors Colloquia are a series of informal academic discussions of current research by faculty, staff, and students of the Honors College.