Director of Student Evaluations and Surveys.

May 16. For questions, please contact Dr. Andrew Pagel, Director of Student Evaluations and Surveys.

Grades are due May 14 at 12 noon and may be certified on May 15. Please ensure your grades are submitted in a timely fashion. Faculty that consistently fail to submit grades on time or fail to meet the grades deadline may be ineligible for merit pay, Faculty Development Leave and other programs. Lists of faculty who do not meet the grades deadline will be posted on the Office of the President website, the Dean and Associate Deans’ office, and the College/School.

Faculty are reminded that under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act, colleges and universities are required to provide students with disabilities equal and integrated access to higher education. U.S. federal accessibility requirements pertain to every resource used by students in organized courses including font sizing, rich content editors and captioning. Canvas’ Accessibility Checker also scans each course and points out errors. For questions or assistance please contact cdesupport@uta.edu.

Final Grade Collection

Grade rosters for Spring 2019 are now open for grade entry. The deadline to submit grades is Tuesday, May 14, 2019 at 12:00 pm.

To ensure we are compliant with U.S. Department of Education regulations, all UT Arlington faculty are required to include additional data when recording a "F" for a student's grade in MyArl. For additional information, see "F Grade Policy." You may either enter your grades directly into MyArl or use Blackboard. For more information on entering online grades, see "Entering Grades." If you are entering grades directly into MyArl, be sure to set the grade roster status to "Approved" when you are finished entering grades.

Please ensure your grades are submitted in a timely fashion. Faculty that consistently fail to submit grades on time or fail to meet the grades deadline may be ineligible for merit pay, Faculty Development Leave and other programs. Lists of faculty who do not meet the grades deadline will be posted on the Office of the President website, the Dean and Associate Deans’ office, and the College/School.

Join the Canvas Revolution

Now is the time to sign up for Canvas training! Blackboard will be decommissioned at the start of Fall 2019 and we’ll move to have all faculty in Canvas. Summer is the perfect time to migrate your course, and learn how to engage your students with this flexible and new LMS platform. Faculty have several options for training:

1. Ask your College Champion to send you the self-paced online "Growing with Canvas" course.
2. Attend face-to-face or online training sessions. More than 50 sessions were offered in April and at least 40 will be offered in May.
3. Ask your department or college to organize a Canvas training just for you and your colleagues (minimum 30 people). Contact canvasteam@uta.edu to schedule.

Canvas offers a number of accessibility tools for materials used in organized courses including font sizing, rich content editors and captioning. Canvas’ Accessibility Checker also scans each course and points out errors. For questions or assistance please contact cdesupport@uta.edu.

Student Feedback Surveys: SmartEvals

SmartEvals is now available to all faculty. Faculty can see student response rates in real time. Faculty will be able to see their results after final grades are certified by the Registrar. Grades are due May 14 at 12:00 pm and may be certified by May 15. Please ensure your grades are submitted in a timely fashion. Faculty that consistently fail to submit grades on time or fail to meet the grades deadline may be ineligible for merit pay, Faculty Development Leave and other programs. Lists of faculty who do not meet the grades deadline will be posted on the Office of the President website, the Dean and Associate Deans’ office, and the College/School.

Faculty should ensure that an accessible copy is available, preferably as an electronic copy. Canvas offers a number of accessibility tools for materials used in organized courses including font sizing, rich content editors and captioning. Canvas’ Accessibility Checker also scans each course and points out errors. For questions or assistance please contact cdesupport@uta.edu.
