Course Information

Section information: BIOL/PSYC3322-001

Time and Place of Class Meetings:

This is the face-to-face class (for a full definition of the course modalities, please visit www.uta.edu/academics/courses-and-schedules). All lectures and exams are held in the SEIR198 every Tuesday and Thursday.

Please note:

1. Approved by the Department chair, the length of lecture time is adjusted to 11:00 AM – 12:10 PM (70 min) due to that the instructor needs longer transition time for another class that starts at 12:30 PM.

2. The length of exams 1 and 2 remains 11:00 AM – 12:20 PM (80 min). For exam 3, please follow the "UTA final exam schedules".

Description of Course Content:

This course will provide a comprehensive review of physiological processes underlying the brain mechanisms that control animal and human behaviors. Topics will include anatomical structure, molecular basis, sensory and motor systems, neurotransmitters, hormones, control of hunger, thirst, temperature, emotional disorders, and schizophrenia, etc.

Student Learning Outcomes:

By the end of the course, students are expected: 1) to describe how the brain works to control and regulate human's behaviors and 2) to understand the associated brain mechanisms.

Textbook and Other Course Materials

A. Biological Psychology, edited by James W. Kalat, 13th edition (ISBN: 978-1-337-40820-2). This textbook is required for course learning and exams. You may either visit UTA Bookstore at <https://www.bkstr.com/texasatarlingtonstore/home> or Cengage at <https://www.cengage.com> for many options and information of the costs. The following are some options:

- i. Loose-leaf book of Biological Psychology.
 - ii. Loose-leaf book of Biological Psychology with 6-month MindTap Access.
 - iii. eBook of Biological Psychology + MindTap (with 180-day access and one-year access).
- Course key is obtained from Cengage and only works with purchase of MindTap.

Note: you are responsible for taking your own risk to make a decision on purchasing older editions, since the answer keys to the multiple questions are based on the 13th edition.

B. The sets of PowerPoint slides provide the course outlines that help students to understand materials while interacting with the instructor in class and guide students to review for exams. The slides are uploaded at “Modules” in the Canvas available for students to download.

Descriptions of major assignments and examinations:

There will be no assignments but reading the PowerPoint slides, textbook and using MindTap are highly recommended.

Please see “Schedules of tentative lecture topics and exams” on page 3 for lecture schedules and dates/times for exams. There will be three equally weighted closed-book exams and each exam covers 4 chapters. The 3rd exam will NOT be comprehensive. You are required to take all three exams. The format for exams is multiple-choice. The form number of scantron answer sheet is 4521.

Technology Requirements:

Since all information and course materials are provided via the Canvas, it is strongly suggested that students access the Canvas Help and/or tutorials to familiarize and download these tools prior to the class.

Other Requirements:

The course prerequisites of this class are BIOL1441, BIOL1442 or PSYC1315.

Grading Information

Grading policies:

Each exam is worth 100 points with a total of 300 points for three exams. Additional 40 points are added for bonus questions to three exams (10 points added to exams 1 and 2, and 20 points added to exam 3, respectively). The final percent grade will be determined by dividing the total number of earned points (including earned additional bonus points) by the total 300 points. For examples, if you earn 250 points, your final percent score will be $250/300 \times 100 = 83.3\%$; if you earn 310 points, your final percent score will be $310/300 \times 100 = 103.3\%$. This is a way to calculate the final percent score yourself. This is also the way to keep track of your performance.

A final letter grade will be assigned where A \geq 86%, B \geq 76%, C \geq 66%, D \geq 56%, F \leq 55%.

Note: There will be no extra credit work to make up the grade. Please do not ask. UTA policy does not allow distribution of grade over the phone call or email.

Make-up Exams:

If you miss an exam, a grade of zero will be given. There is no provision for taking a makeup exam in this course unless documentation for a University-approved excuse (see <http://www.uta.edu/catalog/general/academicreg>) is received within five days of the exam date.

Note: The instructor will schedule the dates/times for taking makeup tests and then informs the students involved (refer to Schedules of Tentative Lecture Topics and Exams).

Expectations for Out-of-Class Study:

Beyond the time required to attend each class meeting, students enrolled in this course should expect to spend at least an additional 9 hours per week of their own time in course-related activities, including intensively reviewing chapters guided by PowerPoint slides, doing quizzes, and/or quizzes provided in MindTap.

Grade Grievances:

Any appeal of a grade in this course should submit a grievance form by following the procedures and deadlines as published in the current University Catalog

(<https://www.uta.edu/academics/schools-colleges/science/departments/psychology/degree-programs/graduate/graduate-resources/student-grievance-form>).

Lectures and Exams

Students are required to know much detailed information. To this end, please be sure to read the textbook before and after attending lectures. Critically, students are strongly suggested to attend the lectures as many as possible in order to get the help in understanding of those difficult materials and the guides for exams.

As the instructor for this course, I reserve the right to adjust this schedule in any way that serves the educational needs of the students enrolled in this course.

Additional Information

Face Covering Policy:

Face coverings are not mandatory, all students and instructional staff are welcome to wear face coverings while they are on campus or in the classroom.

Attendance:

At the University of Texas at Arlington, taking attendance is not required but attendance is a critical indicator of student success. Each faculty member is free to develop his or her own methods of evaluating students' academic performance, which includes establishing course-specific policies on attendance. However, while UT Arlington does not require instructors to take attendance in their courses, the U.S. Department of Education requires that the University have a mechanism in place to mark when Federal Student Aid recipients "begin attendance in a course." UT Arlington instructors will report when students begin attendance in a course as part of the final grading process. Specifically, when assigning a student a grade of F, faculty report must the last date a student attended their class based on evidence such as a test, participation in a class project or presentation, or an engagement online via Canvas. This date is reported to the Department of Education for federal financial aid recipients.

Distance education courses require regular and substantive online interaction and participation. Students must participate in online course activities to demonstrate attendance; logging into an online class is not sufficient by itself to demonstrate attendance.

Please note: Attendance is needed for success in this course. As the instructor of this course, I will not necessarily track and record class attendance for lectures. However, due to much information included in the course, routinely attending the lecture will be extremely beneficial to students in grabbing and understanding the materials to improve the performance of course learning. If students miss a class meeting(s) or miss portions of classes due to tardiness or early departure, they are still accountable for the materials that are covered by those classes. If you miss a class, you are responsible for finding your classmates with whom you can share resources.

Emergency Exit Procedures:

Should we experience an emergency event that requires evacuation of the building, students should exit the room and move toward the nearest exit. When exiting the building during an emergency, do not take an elevator but use the stairwells instead. Faculty members and instructional staff will assist students in selecting the safest route for evacuation and will make arrangements to assist individuals with disabilities.

Academic Success Center:

The Academic Success Center (ASC) includes a variety of resources and services to help you maximize your learning and succeed as a student at the University of Texas at Arlington. ASC services include supplemental instruction, peer-led team learning, tutoring, mentoring and TRIO SSS. Academic Success Center services are provided at no additional cost to UTA students. For
