Global Dignity Day

On October 20th, we celebrate Global Dignity Day. The mission of Global Dignity Day is “to unite everyone with the belief that we all deserve to live a life of dignity.” The dignity of every single person matters and is imperative to fighting inequality, intolerance and injustice.

People are empowered to recognized their intrinsic dignity through education and initiatives in over 80 countries now.

The principles of Global Dignity Day include;
- The right of every human being to live a dignified life
- Freedom to make one’s life decisions
- Access to education, income, security and healthcare
- Individual dignity is collective with the dignity of other

“Human rights rest on human dignity. The dignity of man is an ideal worth fighting for and worth dying for.” Robert Maynard

You can participate by hosting your own Dignity Day event. The following site has resources to help. #THISISDIGNITY

YOU MATTER

What’s Your Calling?
I’ve yet to meet a social work student that didn’t come to the program for a personally meaningful reason... Do you know your reason?... In all that you do in your education, are you working from that reason, purpose, or calling? If not, you’re heading for trouble.

I’ve noticed a concerning trend among social work students where they can go through many years of education and training without being challenged, encouraged, and supported to think about, search for, wrestle with, and follow their calling. By the time these students reach the conclusion of their academic program, they aren’t just unsure of what to do or what job to search for, they’re not working from the heart, they’re lacking passion, and they’re already showing signs, or fully in the throws, of fatigue and burnout.

From The Book of Awakening, Mark Nepo shares sage advice from Carlos Castaneda that can be applied to the time and experiences you will have in higher education:

“Look at every path closely and deliberately
Try it as many times as you think necessary
Then ask yourself, and yourself alone.....
Does this path have a heart? If it does, the path is good. If it doesn’t, it is of no use.”

It’s been said that the difference between a profession and a vocation is the training, skills, and education, but, literally, that’s not quite right. Social Work is considered a helping profession, but, maybe, again, that’s not quite right. The word vocation comes from the latin word vocare: to call, a call, a calling. So maybe, at its best, Social Work is a vocation, the response to a calling, your calling.

We all hear a call. Whether you consider it your conscience, the voice inside, your soul, or God, something calls to and moves each of us to act. To better yourself, others, and all that may be accomplished through social work, through your work, I’d consider your response to this question essential: What’s your calling?

COVID-19 Testing

REQUIRED COVID-19 TESTING
Beginning Monday, Sept. 13, students, faculty and staff coming to any UTA campus in any capacity will be selected at random for mandatory COVID-19 testing.

Until further notice, 20% of our campus population, regardless of vaccination status, will be selected each week for testing. Notifications will come from covidtesting@uta.edu, and you will have seven days to get tested after being selected. If you have any questions, contact covidtesting@uta.edu.

UTA has a number of on-campus testing options that meet the required criteria and are free. Results received from an on-campus testing option will automatically be reported to the University with no further action required on your part.

Results from off-campus testing sites will be accepted, though you will not be reimbursed for costs. Test results from an off-campus testing site will be uploaded to the COVID-19 Self Report portal in MyMav.

Remember, if you test positive, please follow the CDC’s isolation protocols and submit the Personal Diagnosis Form.

UTA’s COVID-19 testing resources are always available to you should you need or want a test; you do not need to wait until you are selected for random testing.
