

WEEKLY UPDATE July 25, 2022

SOCIAL JUSTICE SPOTLIGHT

July 26 is National Disability Independence Day!

On July 26, 1990, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) was signed into law by George H.W. Bush. The ADA National Network recognizes this landmark event and the important work to promote equal opportunity for people with disabilities. This law broke down barriers that people with disabilities were facing everyday. Changes that came along were to improve the safety and mobility of a person. This year ADA turns 32 years old!

How to Observe

- Share Your #ThanksToTheADA Moment on Social Media
• Read the history of the ADA here!
• Take ADA Trainings (Trainings are available in-person, webcast, and online) Click here to find out how!
• Get inspired, read about Ed Roberts, who was a leader in disability rights!

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Get to know our Student Leaders!

Meet Katie Murrillo

Hello! My name is Katie Murrillo (they/them), and this is my first semester serving as a USL. I am a transfer student and am currently in my senior year of the BSW program with plans to enter the MSW program Spring 2023.

I am interning at UTA's Relationship Violence and Sexual Assault Prevention program for my field placement, and I hope to eventually work in the field of survivor advocacy once I receive my license. My passion for social justice and my intersecting identities as a Latinx nonbinary lesbian have informed the ways in which I navigate society and have played a large role in why I chose social work. Outside of academia, I love to spend time with friends, play video games, and spend time with my cat! I'm honored to serve as a USL and foster community and create connections with my peers!

YOU MATTER

What is Living Mindfully?

Hello everyone, my name is Olga Carrillo. I am an MSW Foundation student, and honestly, I'm trying my best to juggle a work- school- sleep balance. This semester has been a tough one to readjust myself to only doing online courses and finding the time to implement self-care habits into my routine while finishing all my to-do list. The best advice I give myself those days "is to be kind to yourself". I say this because you wouldn't tell your friends they aren't doing enough or criticize them harshly, especially when they look like they've had a tough day.

I think we often forget that we are human, and the simplicity in that is we aren't perfect whatsoever. We were born to make mistakes and grow from them. The key element to this is perspective and how a person's point of view can either limit what they see or helps them overcome obstacles. This is when I discovered what is "living mindfully" and being self aware of one's actions, especially when needing to reach out for help.

Something I'd love to share with you all

I was listening to a podcast by "Savvy Psychologists", Host Dr. Monica Johnson. It's titled, "5 Building Blocks of Mindfulness". Here she says that there is so much power in perspective. She says "If we continuously tell ourselves we are nothing, then you will shrink to match the reality you've created", in other words these are faulty interpretations of our reality.

What do you think living mindfully means?
