SOCIAL JUSTICE SPOTLIGHT

On November 30th , we celebrate Giving each other personal space.

On November 30th let us celebrate National Personal Space Day! Meaning to respecting personal boundaries amongst one another and giving time to ourselves.

Life can be stressful sometimes. Even though talking to others about the issues, spending alone time can also help us grow. This day provides an opportunity to bring awareness of our personal needs of who we are.

Therefore, when we celebrate this day, spend time with yourself and encourage others to do the same!

YOU MATTER

Your Attitude Matters

Did you know that your attitude determines your personality? Therefore, as future social workers, it is necessary to have a positive attitude. It is important for our clients to know that it is good to have a positive mindset. Your attitude is with you in every part of daily communication. The attitude is always there and evident, not just in any words that you might say, but also in the tone you say them.

Your attitude affects hand gestures and facial expressions. Alongside this, it may affect your posture and other nonverbal cues. Your attitude will reflect outwardly in your behavior. Even if you attempt to carefully monitor what you say to your future clients.

It is important to know your unique connections with attitudes. Research has shown that many people are unaware of their attitudes or a change in behavior. It is important to know when our mindset change for the worse and immediately change it for the better.

Therefore, let us focus more on positivity rather than negativity. Whatever is bringing you down right now is temporary. You will feel better when thinking positive. Remember, your attitude make up who you truly are!

Warm Regards,

Olga Carrillo
