- Next, complete the available pre-orientation modules tailored for you.

STEP 02

Schedule an appointment and meet with your academic advisor

Follow the link below based on your student type to learn more about how you should schedule your advising appointment.

FRESHMEN: The University Advising Center will send you an email on a weekly basis with their next steps.

TRANSFER: Transfer students, you need to contact the department of your major to schedule an advising appointment.

GRADUATE: As a graduate student, you need to contact the department of your intended degree plan to determine if advising can be done through an individual appointment or through a department orientation session.

REMOVE HOLDS: Resolve other registration holds. Check your MyMav for any potential holds on your account before your advising appointment.

STEP 03

Once you have completed steps one and two you are ready to enroll in courses. Watch the short video for step-by-step instructions on how to enroll.

PARTICIPATE IN A VIRTUAL ORIENTATION SESSION:

On the date you selected to complete orientation, you will participate in online presentations that mirror the sessions you would have enjoyed during an on-campus orientation. These sessions will be mostly live, so you will have opportunities to ask questions and connect with others. Our goal is to make our virtual orientation as close to the real thing as possible.

The Orientation Leaders are current students who serve as your guides through the process. They are excited to welcome you to UTA and help bring new students together. Plus, they will be available after orientation to answer any questions and help build connections to the UTA community.

Your virtual orientation session is required, so ensure that you are available for the duration of the program. More details about virtual orientation, including a schedule of the session, will be emailed to you a few days prior to your session.
